Ask Your Own UK Appliance Question Customer reply replied 11 years ago Thanks for the quick response. Unfortunately this didnt work, have cleaned the inlet filters, however once it gets to the rinsing cycle the rinsing light flashes and it starts beeping, could this mean that the inlet solenoid is faulty. This is if your filter is all clean. There should be air for passage in the standpipe behind. Your hose should not fit airtight into the standpipe and neither too deep into it. Snaking out your standpipe would be good too. If the exit waste pipe was blocked, wouldnt this prevent it from draining. Hoover Vision hd 31002400. Error code 14. machine morning. Hoover Vision hd 31002400. Error code 14. machine fills and empties. Very occasionally spin cycle works but often code 14. Heats OK. !4 min was cycle works very occasionally. I want to check to make sure there is no debris behind it. It will run just the rinse, but not wash then rinse. I have replaced the carbon brushes and still the 4 spin lights, rinse hold, and wash lights are flashing not the rinse, spin, end lights.

Its a very good machine indeed, although a bit frugal with water on the wool cycle. I bought it used years ago, the dealer recommended it back then. The bearings on the washer are in trouble. She may replace it with a Bosch washer. I liked the control panel, and it just looked tidy with clean lines. Im going to have to investigate replacements. It replaced a WFF2001 lower specced WFK2801 that was rather troublesome and also blew its board. This was the last of the line for BSH in terms of stainless steel outer drums, I believe. The 2006 Classixx thing I took apart had a plastic tub. My recollection is that it worked well I left it behind when I sold the flat it was in in early 2003, partly to enhance the sale and partly because it was built into a shower room and would have been a lot of trouble to remove. I left it for a while then tried it again today and it did do a tiny spin but that was it. nothing from then on. It carried on going through its cycle but just no spinning. I have clean the filter at the bottom of the machine, but im not sure what else i might be able to do. If any kind person could perhaps give me some ideas i would be truly grateful. Ive just been going through this site and thought it may well be the brushes. I will try and get a look at it later. Thanks again, Rachel Ive watched the utude video about replacing them. but the motor i have seems bigger. Anyways fingers crossed we will get it sorted soon. Having three young kindie winks. you dont need to be without a washing machine for long. My fella is going into a shop to buy some today. When you say the right way. Thanks again, Rachel Slightly different noise when spinning but i think its due to the new brushes. Thanks again Rachel We have checked the motor and brushes again and they have really worn down. We think that maybe we had the wrong brushes in. Any suggestion would be truly welcome. Rachel The smell seems to come when the drum goes through a slow spin part of the cycle.
